We are the first network of Food & Beverage Companies established in Italy, where food is above all an act of love. We promote and export our products to the main international markets, enhancing all the benefits coming from the Mediterranean diet and a healthy lifestyle. We aim to drive a change into the food industry in order to reach higher standards and sustainable development, supporting local farmers and small producers. Our concept represents the bright side of this scenario, merging together the most exciting personalities and producers of the finest Italian gastronomy, from field to fork.

The food industry has definitely turned into a pure business during the last few decades, normalizing some bad habits such as junk and fast food. "Taste the good side" is our motto, our vision, our standing on the right side, the good one.

Our mission, born as a reaction to the current standards, is to challenge the norm offering the highest quality available, balancing the market needs along with the respect for our roots and tradition, enhancing biodiversity and organic products whenever possible. We are deeply connected to our territory and its people, always anticipating trends by staying close to the source and actively promoting simplicity into the operations, linking local business to global market.
